DETAILED ACTION

Continued Examination Under 37 CFR 1.114

1. A request for continued examination under 37 CFR 1.114, including the fee set forth in 37 CFR 1.17(e), was filed in this application after final rejection. Since this application is eligible for continued examination under 37 CFR 1.114, and the fee set forth in 37 CFR 1.17(e) has been timely paid, the finality of the previous Office action has been withdrawn pursuant to 37 CFR 1.114. Applicant's submission filed on 3/4/2008 has been entered.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 102

2. Claims 106-140 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(b) as being anticipated by WO 99/52973 for the reasons set forth in item 4 of the Office action mailed 6/28/2007.

Claims 112, 128 and 138 have been added to this rejection in view of applicants' remarks filed 3/4/2008. Applicants state that these claims do not exclude blend components, and upon further review, the asserted scope is accepted. However, the required permeability is limited to those polymers formed solely of poly(carboxylic acid) polymer because the claim establishes the permeability requirement only for such films. Therefore, since no permeability requirement has been established for films which include blend components, claims 95, 112, 128 and 138 are added to this rejection because they include blend components.

Applicant's arguments filed 3/4/2008 have been fully considered but they are not persuasive. The claims have been amended to add the transitional phrase "consisting essentially of." The transitional phrase "consisting essentially of" limits the scope of a claim to the specified materials or steps and those that do not materially affect the basic and novel characteristics of the claimed invention. However, for the purposes of searching for and applying prior art under 35 U.S.C. 102 and 103, absent a clear indication in the specification or claims of what the basic and novel characteristics actually are, "consisting essentially of" will be construed as equivalent to "comprising" (See MPEP 2111.03). In this case, the specification does not indicate that the basic and novel characteristics would exclude the polyalcohol components specified in the reference. Moreover, the specification at page 25, second full paragraph, expressly permits blend components provided that the gas barrier properties, high temperature water vapor resistance and hot water resistance of the film are not impaired. No basis exists to conclude that any of the stated properties would be impaired by use of the polyalcohol blend components of the reference. In fact, applicants' Comparative example 2 shows when a PVA blend component is used, the film shows lower oxygen permeability than many of applicants' working examples. It is furthermore noted that applicants' argument states that "the present claims exclude a polyvinyl alcohol component." However, the reference examples are not limited to polyvinyl alcohol as blend components, but also exemplify starch, sugar alcohol, glycerin and sorbitol; applicants have made no comment regarding whether they view these other blend components as also excluded by the amended transitional phrase.

3. Claims 88-96 and 98-105 are allowed over the prior art currently of record because films comprising a polyalcohol blend component and heat treated as described in WO '973 would not be expected to have the claimed solubility requirement in view of applicants' Comparative Example 2.
